Boutons pour la Haute Couture - Bespoke Buttons

Le Boutonnier Switzerland is part of Janos Tedeschi Jewelers - a ultra high-end jewellery firm from Basel, Switzerland focusing on a worldwide niche for only the most exclusive clientele:

The creation of handmade buttons set with real gemstones for shirts, coats and dresses: Ultimate luxury.

Every single button is hand-crafted to order by the jeweler
Janos Tedeschi and his dedicated team of goldsmiths and gemologists.
Every gemstone is handpicked and cut specifically for every order.
All gemstones are natural and untreated according to industry standards.

Vision of the Designer

There is hardly another man-made object that for centuries - millennia rather - has enjoyed such unabated attention and application as the button. Buttons were once considered precious objects expressing wealth and status. Until the early 20th century there was a rich industry designing and producing these coveted objects in all possible materials, shapes and sizes all over Europe. One wonders how such a crucial object of function and design that "makes or breaks" the aesthetics of a piece of clothing and that for centuries was considered equally - if not more - precious as the cloth it was attached to - could have become the almost valueless, disregarded object of today. Today even in haute couture, in fact, buttons are mostly solely made of the cheapest of materials; plastic. Obviously, the fashion world needs to rethink - and to reinstate - the button as an objet d'art.

It is my intention to do just that.

As an accredited gemologist with several years experience in the field of gemstones and jewellery, and a training as a goldsmith with focus on reproduction of antique jewellery,
I am endlessly fascinated by gemstones. I am convinced of their validity in today's fashion.
I believe that gemstones, developing over millennia in the very depths of the earth, exude an incomparable quality and magic.

I therefore base my concept of a new „art of the button“ on the unparalleled beauty of these natural, precious resources.

And thus I am proud to hereby present you with a first mesmerizing collection of "Jewel-set" buttons by Le Boutonnier Switzerland.

The aim was to craft a fully handmade box that reflects the quality and rarity of its content. The box slides open sideways, a feature which is quite an eye-catcher. The buttons are placed not in velvet, but directly into holes drilled into the wood: There is no artificial layer between the wood and the gemstone – both of which represent precious materials from our earth. The box is truly a stunning object in itself and becomes part of the Le Boutonnier buttons experience.
